BOTH SIDES OF THE RIVER.

The Panorama presents both sides of the River in perfect photographic reproduction. By its aid travelers by river or rail on either shore can see at any time exactly where they are. The work is a novelty in its line and should be in the possession of every one who travels on the Rhine of America.—Poughkeepsie Evening Enterprise.

FROM BARTHOLDI STATUE TO THE CAPITOL.

This unique and interesting emanation from the press will win the popular favor at sight. Starting from the Bartholdi Statue it gives a continuous picture of both sides of the River to Albany.—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

A FINE PIECE OF ART—PANORAMA OF THE HUDSON FROM THE METROPOLIS TO THE CAPITOL.

An interesting and marvelously beautiful publication. Both sides of the river are pictured on the same page; all the villages and cities, and the continuous profile of the shores being correctly represented. The work has been in progress for a year; both shores of the Hudson were photographed last summer. The entire work cost the publisher $10,000.—News Press.
